

FRIDAY EVENING, OCT. 11, 1907.

THE announcement that the headquarters of the republican congressional campaign committee are to be brought to Washington from New York at once is accepted as a movement in the interest of Speaker Cannon's boom for the presidency. Representative Sherman, of New York, chairman of the committee said this is not correct, but his denial is not credited. The congressional campaign committee will have no legitimate work to do until all the nominations for Congress have been made next year. The fact therefore that they intend to keep offices open and maintain the present organization is naturally taken as a clear indication that the committee expects to take a hand in the selection of delegates to the national convention. It is not, however, apparent just what it can accomplish.

IN HIS annual report to the trustees President Franklin W. Hamilton, of Tufts College, Massachusetts, declares against the system of co-education now in vogue at that institution. The fate of the department of liberal arts, he declares, depends on the immediate segregation of the men and women in the college. He expresses the opinion that ultimately every educational institution in New England where the two sexes are together in the classrooms must become a girls' college. Co-education has proved a failure almost in every instance where tried. Even Dr. Harper, of the Chicago University, who at one time was a great advocate of such education, was forced before he died to admit that it was a failure.

MR. HENRY N. PARRY and wife of Chicago, Ill., have been staying at the Bakerton Hotel for several days, says the Stanton Leader. Mr. Parry is an elderly man and has retired from business. He came to Virginia, he says, to spend the rest of his life. He is delighted with the Old Dominion and says that it must be planned after heaven itself, to be so delightful a place. He has just purchased a large farm near Bell's Valley and is now at home in the country. He says he wants to spend the remainder of his life in dear old Virginia. And why not, for "the sun shines no where quite so bright as in Virginia," and "heaven and earth seem to meet in Virginia."

A DISPATCH from New York says republicans and Hearst have decided upon fusion. The republican vote in executive committee was 32 to 3. Hearst gets six of the eleven men on the ticket. This is what might have been expected. Mr. Hearst sees that the democrats have very properly left him, so in his endeavor to gain his own ends he has "fused" with the republicans after a very short "independent" career. As has been frequently stated an independent democrat soon becomes a republican.

MR. W. J. BRYAN declared in an interview in Cincinnati yesterday that President Roosevelt's plan for the national incorporation of railroads is the most far reaching step toward centralization of power since the days of Hamilton. And that is just the way Mr. Roosevelt would lead if he could get a sufficient number of followers.

AN American army officer makes the assertion that the Japanese could take the Philippines in ten days. And the fact that they leave them on our hands shows how hollow is the Japanese pretension of friendship toward the United States, aptly adds the Philadelphia North American.

TODAY'S Treasury statement showed receipts $2,645,327, and expenditures, $2,579,000. Truly this is a billion dollar country.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Oct. 11. Hopeless failure to agree upon a common plan for railroad investigation and legislation marked the deliberations of the State railroad commissioners today, the last of their four days sessions. The wide divergence of views of individual commissioners was brought out in the discussion upon report of the committee on rates and rate making today. The only phase of the problem upon which the commissioners could agree was a general objection to President Roosevelt's plan of entire federal control, in place of which, apparently, each State has a plan of its own, differing from every other State. The report says in regard to railroad earnings in different districts: "This may be argued as a reason for entire federal control, something we believe to be impossible, without amending the constitution. This we do not believe the State will concede, until it is demonstrated that it is more practical than experience has yet shown it to be. There have been many general rate reductions in different States, followed by reductions on interstate traffic and, so far as we know, these have all been brought about by the affirmative action of the State authorities. So far as we are advised, we know of no general reduction due to any action by the federal authorities. We believe the best inter-

Miss Ethel E. Stickley, of Woodstock, Va., had her purse stolen yesterday while riding on a New York avenue, Washington, car. Miss Stickley told the police that she was sitting on a front seat, when three men boarded the car and sat down beside her. She was somewhat crowded, she said, but thought nothing of it until she alighted and discovered her purse was gone. It contained about $1.50 in change and a return ticket from Washington to Woodstock.

Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, whose amazing financial transactions culminated in the wrecking of an Oberlin, Ohio, bank, died in the women's ward at the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary last night at 10:15 Mrs. Chadwick had been in a comatose condition many hours previous to her death and the end came peacefully. No friends or relatives waited at her bedside, only the prison physician and hospital attendants being present. Her son, Emil Hoover, had been summoned from Cleveland.

There is reason to believe, according to the police, that Philip Mastriano, the nine-year-old boy who was found strangled to death in Bridgeport, Conn., Wednesday, was murdered by kidnappers, one of whom was a woman, and that the child's death was to cover the tracks of those who had stolen him. Philip was the son of Nicholas Mastriano. The police are of the opinion that efforts were being made to extort money from the father by the Black Hand, and that when he refused to pay the kidnappers killed the child.

Purchasing Agent Trainor, of the Standard Oil, yesterday declared on the witness stand that he had never received any of the $20,000,000 paid to him, according to the Standard Oil books. Loans of over $32,000,000 made by the Standard of New York last year to "outside interests" also attracted the attention of Kellogg and he said he might call William C. Rockefeller to the stand and ask him to explain them. Mr. Trainor, also said that the market price of the commodity is fixed daily by John D. Archibald.

Believing that the use of his watch and chain and $7 in cash would help to get change for a $50 bill found on the street by two strangers, in Washington, John Cunningham found that waiting is weary, and yesterday reported the matter to the police. He said that two men approached him at the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and Second street. One of them explained that he had just picked up a purse containing a $50 bill. They explained that inasmuch as Cunningham had seen them pick it up, it was proper that he should share in the find. But in order to change it he was required to lend his personal property until he heard them whistle twice. He has so far not heard the whistle.

K. T. PARADE.

Over 400 Knights Templar, in full regalia, yesterday paraded in Norfolk, incident to the eighty-fifth annual convocation of the Grand Commandery of Virginia.

Prior to the parade a brief session was held at the Masonic Temple, with Grand Commander T. J. Nottingham, of Norfolk, presiding.

At the conclusion of the parade, accompanied by three bands, the Masons took the steamer Berkeley for a trip around Norfolk harbor and Hampton Roads. After the sightseeing trip was completed the knights were landed at the Jamestown Exposition.

THE RAILROAD WINS.

In the United States court at Asheville, N. C., yesterday Judge Pritchard rendered his decision sustaining the ruling of Standing Master Montgomery, in refusing to allow the State's attorneys in the railway rate case hearing to investigate the books of the Southern Railway prior to June 30, 1905. The court says that the exceptions to the ruling of the standing master are without merit, and, therefore, overruled. The appeal of the defendants was argued last Saturday by counsel, and since then Judge Pritchard has had the matter under consideration.

MR. KOINER WINS.

The State board of agriculture in Richmond yesterday abolished the executive committee, created at the time of the reorganization of the department in Norfolk, naming an auditing committee in its stead. The new committee consists of the chairman, G. W. Heater, W. H. Egbertson and J. H. J. Beverly. The trouble in the department arose over the appointment, during the absence in Europe of Commissioner George W. Koiner, of E. B. Chesterman, a former clerk, to the position of secretary-treasurer, with powers coequal with those of the commissioner. Koiner, who is elected by the people, decided to dismiss Chesterman, whom he had appointed. The action of the board yesterday is a complete victory for Koiner.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Right Rev. Lucian Lee Kinsolving, missionary bishop to Brazil, yesterday tendered his resignation to the House of Bishops of the General Episcopal Convention in session in Richmond when that house adopted a resolution admitting the United States of Brazil as a missionary district of the American Church. The adoption of the resolution followed the recommendation of the house committee on amendments to the constitution, which recommendation carried the acceptance of the resignation of jurisdiction by the present bishop. It was further resolved that the House of Bishops and House of Deputies jointly elect a bishop to preside over the newly admitted territory.

The election of a bishop to preside over Brazil was inserted in the order of business of the House of Bishops for this afternoon. It was authoritatively stated that Bishop Kinsolving will succeed himself. He will also be granted the privilege of a seat in the House of Bishops, which privilege is denied him as an independent foreign bishop.

The House of Bishops passed a number of resolutions changing the boundaries of missionary districts and dioceses in the west, appointing new bishops to preside over them, and in three instances creating new missionary districts. The action of the bishops in regard to these changes is final, they being vested with this authority irrespective of the House of Deputies.

The bounties of the dioceses and districts of Laramie, Boise, Sacramento, Salt Lake and Spokane were among those changed, and the missionary district of Wyoming, which will include that entire State. Districts created were the missionary districts of Utah, Idaho, Nevada and West Colorado. The name of the missionary district of Laramie was changed to that of Kearney, and is made to include the area formerly contained in the missionary district of Platte. The new district is relieved of the portions of Wyoming formerly contained therein. The missionary district of Spokane is relieved of portions of Idaho. Sacramento is also relieved of portions of Nevada which that district formerly contained.

Bishop Graves, in attendance upon the present session of the convention as the bishop of Laramie, has been transferred to the missionary district of Kearney. Bishop Fausset, of Boise, is made bishop of Idaho. Bishop Spalding, formerly bishop of Salt Lake, will in future be designated as the bishop of Utah. The bishops to preside over the districts of Nevada, Wyoming and West Colorado will be appointed during the present session of the House of Bishops.

In the House of Deputies, Rev. Reese F. Alsop, chairman of the committee on the admission of new dioceses, reported that his committee had favorably considered a request from the diocese of Oregon, asking that all that portion of the State east of the Cascade Mountains be admitted as a missionary district. He presented the following resolution: "Resolved, that the House of Bishops, on receiving the petition of the diocese of Oregon and that the missionary district be accepted."

The motion was carried, but a moment later an objection was raised and the vote was reconsidered. The question as to the admission of the district was placed on the calendar and will be fully discussed at some future meeting.

In asking for the admission of the missionary district the Diocese of Oregon gave as its reasons the extent of territory contained in the district, its increasing population, the insufficient number of churches and clergymen now at work in the State, and the limited finances of the district, which required that the diocese obtain aid from the church at large.

The resolution as adopted by the bishops provides for uniting the dioceses and missionary districts of the church into provinces, as follows:

1. A province consisting of the Dioceses of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Western Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

2. A province consisting of the Dioceses of New York, Long Island, Albany, Central New York, Western New York, New Jersey and Newark, and the missionary district of Porto Rico.

3. A province consisting of the dioceses of Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Central Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Delaware, Easton, Washington, Virginia, Southern Virginia and West Virginia.

4. A province consisting of the dioceses of North Carolina, East Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky and Lexington, of the missionary districts of Asheville and Southern Florida.

5. A province consisting of the dioceses of Ohio, Southern Ohio, Indianapolis, Michigan City, Chicago, Quincy, Springfield, Michigan, Western Michigan, Marquette, Milwaukee and Fond-du-Lac.

6. A province consisting of the dioceses of Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Montana and Colorado, and of the missionary districts of Duluth, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kearney, West Colorado and Wyoming.

7. A province consisting of the dioceses of Missouri, Kansas City, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas, Texas, Dallas and West Texas, and of the missionary districts of New Mexico, Sallas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

8. A province consisting of the dioceses of California, Los Angeles and Oregon, and of the missionary districts of Olympia, Spokane, Sacramento, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Arizona, Alaska, Honolulu and the Philippine Islands.

It is further provided that within three months after this canon takes effect, the senior bishop in a province shall convene the bishops of the province for the purpose of electing a primate for such terms of years as the synod may subsequently determine.

A historical mass meeting, presided over by Bishop Randolph, was held last night. Addresses were made by Bishop Nichols, of California; Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts; and Bishop Montgomery, secretary of the society for propagation of the gospel in London.

The bishops also reported that they had adopted a resolution which in effect, lamented the decrease in attendance of children at church services, exhorting clergymen everywhere to give more of their attention to this matter.

Dr. Patton, acting chairman of the committee on missions, introduced a resolution asking that the movement of the last three years in connection with the triennial thank-offering of men be continued, the offering to be presented at each general convention. The resolution was adopted.

Today the vote was taken for the preamble to the constitution by dioceses, and it was carried by a safe majority.

Next comes the question of a segregated colored church and colored bishops. The members of the convention will go to Jamestown tomorrow where communion services will be held on the spot where Rev. Robert Hunt, chaplain of the first expedition on June 21, 1607, conducted the first celebration of the holy communion according to the rite of the Anglican Church on the American continent.

Today's Telegraphic News.

New York Republicans.

New York, Oct. 11.—Chairman Herbert Parsons of the New York republican county committee, personal representative in New York State of President Roosevelt, has the task of his career before him with a bolt in his party threatening. It was under the lash of his whip, and absolutely against the protests of a majority of the delegates to the county convention that a fusion ticket was named last night, the republicans trading Mr. Lynn Bruce, candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court for Maximilian Isbman for sheriff and dividing subordinate places equally. Isbman is state chairman of the Independence League, W. R. Hearst's organization.

The Independence League got the best of the bargain, as the sheriff's office is worth $62,000 yearly while Supreme Court Justice is worth but $17,500. Today the Olelli wing of the party threatens an open bolt. They declared they will vote for straight party men even though they be democrats, and insist Parsons forced the fusion movement through by declaring President Roosevelt wanted it. Parsons declines to talk other than to say his ticket will win.

Reported Bank Robbery.

Upper Sandusky, O., Oct. 11.—Call for police assistance was received this morning from Wharton, O., where, it is reported, the Wharton Bank was robbed during the night. How the safe was entered or the amount taken is not known. Bloodhounds are to be sent on the scene and a posse has been gathered to accompany the dogs on the chase.

Wharton, O., Oct. 11.—The Marshal and posse, with bloodhounds, have today trailed the men who robbed the bank here last night as far as Carey, O. The bank safe was not blown, and only a small amount of money was taken from the vault. The robbers were scared away by a night watchman, leaving their tools and explosives in the bank.

Governor Hughes at Jamestown.

Jamestown, Va., Oct. 11.—Governor Hughes and the official party from New York State are spending today inspecting the Exposition and attending a number of functions arranged in their honor. The Missouri State Commission entertained the New Yorkers at breakfast in the Missouri headquarters. Later the Governor was given a reception in the Administration building by the Daughters of the Revolution. This afternoon General Grant will place his yacht at the disposal of the party for a sea trip and permit them to inspect the warships anchored here. Tonight Governor and Mrs. Swanson, of Virginia, will entertain the New Yorkers. The party will return to New York tomorrow morning.

Woman Assaulted by Robber.

New York, Oct. 11.—Woman's weapon proved best when Miss Maria McCordie, ticket agent in an elevated station in Brooklyn, saved herself from probable death early today by screaming after she had fired three shots from a pistol without effect. A man broke into her office and struck her on the head with an iron bar. She began firing at him with her revolver. The shots went wild, and then Miss McCordie began to scream. Her cries awakened people and the man took to his heels. He was arrested and identified as Dan Murphy, a former guard in the employ of the company. Miss McCordie was taken to a hospital, the blow on her head having caused serious injury.

Accouchement in an Automobile.

Turin, Italy, Oct. 11.—With the motor car in which she was a passenger tearing down a steep hill at a sixty-mile-an-hour clip and beyond control, through a break in the mechanism, the Countess Bina Bina gave birth to twins last night. With three friends the count and countess were enjoying an automobile spin when the car became unmanageable on the crest of a hill. The brakes refused to work and the machine dashed on at terrific speed. The countess fainted from the shock. Fortunately the petroleum box was almost empty and after leaving the hill the car came to a stop without accident. The countess was hurried to a maternity hospital at Voghera where it was said today mother and children are doing well.

Philadelphian Arrested in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Badly beaten and knocked by an agitated crowd of French peasants, Charles P. Baird, of Philadelphia, a son of the manager of Baldwin Locomotive Works, was arrested charged with murder, because his automobile had killed a boy. Baird was driving his machine near Neuilly, and endeavoring to avoid an omnibus filled with passengers, struck and killed the boy. Consul General Mason and Donald Harper, an attorney, secured Baird's release. He will be given an examination later.

Ex-President Cleveland.

New York, Oct. 11.—Former President Grover Cleveland is paying a mysterious visit to New York. Accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland he arrived last night and went to the Hotel Buckingham. He managed to dodge reporters last night and today declined to receive any one. It is believed his visit here is to consult a specialist regarding the stomach trouble which caused his recent illness. The ex-President looked badly and walked with a halting step, despite the use of a stout cane.

For failure to stop opium smoking during the six months' probationary period Prince Chuan Jui and others have been suspended from their official positions in China.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to some, but not to all, of the people who are buried or would that be treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles, too, and children disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by druggists, 25c.

Crisis in Mine Workers' Union.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11.—A crisis that may strike at the very existence of the great mine workers' organization is threatened by the fight for the place to be vacated by John Mitchell. On one side is Vice President Lewis, who, whether he likes it or not, is backed by the socialists and radicals in the organization who desire a strike. On the other side is T. D. Nicholas, president of District No. 1., probably next to Mitchell, the most popular man among the anthracite workers, and among Mitchell's friends everywhere. No other man, however, will be able to hold the friendship of the operators as Mitchell has done. And the operators believe that no other man will be able to hold the miners together as Mitchell has. That Mitchell is getting out of the organization at the critical period of its history is admitted. For the first time in the existence of the organization both bituminous and anthracite contracts expire at the same time, April 1, 1908.

Death of von Buelow's Wife.

The wife of the imperial adjutant, General Adolph von Buelow, died Wednesday night under sad circumstances. The general, who has been bedridden for some time past, suffering from asthma, had a severe attack in the course of the night, and his attendants called the general's wife, who, seeing him apparently suffocating and unconscious, shrieked: "The general is dying; so am I!" Frau von Buelow fell dead at her husband's bedside. He recovered consciousness later, but is in a serious condition, and has not yet been informed of his wife's death.

Thompson was convicted of stealing a purse from a well avenue mansion here and confessed that he intended to rob several houses and return to England to live.

Postoffice Robbed.

Minneapolis, L. I., Oct. 11.—Held up at the point of a revolver by two masked burglars, Deputy Sheriff George W. Smith was today forced to watch the companions of his captors blow open the local postoffice safe and make away with $1,000 in stamps, money and money orders. They then escaped in a wagon before a posse could be summoned to give chase.

St. Louis, Oct. 11.—In a raid on an alleged oleomargarine factory by government revenue officials this morning, Edward Daly, a federal officer, was shot through the breast and H. C. Moorman, owner of the suspected premises, was shot in the groin. Both may die. No incriminating evidence was found following the excitement.

Naval Officer Sent to Asylum.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Commander John B. Briggs, U. S. N., retired, was today sent to an insane asylum until word can be had from his relatives in the United States. He created a scene in a hotel, declaring he was being pursued by six hundred people, all of whom had designs on his life. His home is in Massachusetts.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 11.—The market was in a unsettled condition all through the first hour with sharp declines and material losses in issues in which there were indications of renewed forced liquidation. At the same time other stocks short contracts made moderate gains. Government bonds, two and four, declined 1/4, other bonds were generally lower. A degree of demoralization prevailed in the market all through the forenoon. There were few heavy buyers and the speculative gains made after the first hour. Heavy covering in steel common and many other stocks is reported on the floor.

BREAKS OCEAN RECORD.

The turbine steamer Lusitania is queen of the seas. She finished her second run to New York at 1:17 o'clock this morning and anchored near the Sandy Hook lightship, waiting until sunrise before entering the harbor through the new Ambrose channel. She made the voyage from Danvers Rock across the Atlantic in four days, nineteen hours and forty minutes. Her average speed exceeds the former record of 23 5/8 knots an hour, held by the Kaiser Wilhelm II, of the North German Lloyd line, and her record for the trip across the ocean beats that of the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland, which crossed from Cherbourg, a much longer course, in 5 days 11 hours and 54 minutes, her average speed being 23.15 knots an hour, while the average of the Lusitania's first trip, which ended at Sandy Hook September 13, was 23.01 knots an hour, or 5 days 54 minutes for the trip.

The Lusitania's first trip gave her the record for the Queenstown course, formerly held by the Lusitania, of the same line, which made the voyage in 1894 in 5 days 7 hours and 23 minutes.

The Cunard line captured its first record for the voyage across the ocean when the Europa, in 1846, made the then remarkable time of 11 days 3 hours, beating the former record of the famous Great Western, made in 1838, of 14 1/2 days.

The Lusitania was docked at New York at 10 o'clock this morning. She reached Sandy Hook at 1:17 a. m. The time of the passage was 4 days 19 hours and 52 minutes.

FATHER AND SON UNITED.

Like a fairy story, or the glowing account of a poor boy's luck in a boy's weekly, George Harris, 15 years of age, is to be reunited with his wealthy father, whom he thought was dead and whom he had not seen since babyhood. From a supposed poor orphan boy he has become the heir of George Harris, a merchant, of Shenandoah, Va., and will leave his home at Hobart, Ind., to live with his father and gain a college education in the East.

The father and son were brought together through a newspaper want "ad" which appeared recently in a Chicago newspaper. The Shenandoah merchant advertised for news of his son, George Harris, and the Hobart boy answered, struck with the similarity of names. In the correspondence which followed, the father discovered that the boy was his son, for whom he had been searching for the past fourteen years.

The boy when a baby was placed in an asylum during the illness of the father, and when Harris recovered he found his child had been given into the care of strangers. He advertised for years, always hoping that some day he would find the lost baby. Young Harris has been living with Theodore Ross in the Indiana town.

M. on the 26th of October, 1907, for the purpose of considering the reduction of its capital stock from One Hundred and Twenty Thousand Dollars to Twelve Thousand Dollars, and the amendment of the charter of the company accordingly; and to authorize the sale of its quarry property situated in Glen Echo, Md., and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented to the stockholders.
